Best Gambling certifies to ISO27001 Information Security Standard

Best Gambling is pleased to report that on 30 April 2018 they successfully passed the criteria and audit to be certified to the Information Security Standard ISO/IEC 27001:2013.

This standard demonstrates to Best Gambling clients that information security, along with all product related security, is given the upmost attention.

About ISO27001: ISO/IEC 27001 formally specifies a management system that is intended to bring information security under explicit management control. Being a formal specification means that it mandates specific requirements. The standard systematically examines an organisation's information security risks, taking account of the threats, vulnerabilities, and impacts and adopts an overarching management process to ensure that the information security controls continue to meet the organisation's information security needs on an on-going basis.

About Best Gambling: Best Gambling delivers an environment for gambling startups and scaleups to enter the regulated UK gambling market.

Best Gambling help customers launch their product whilst adhering to UKGC compliance for Gambling Regulations, AML, player protection, etc. In addition, Best Gambling provide the payment gateway, player accounts, data feeds (if needed) and other technically compliant knowhow to deliver a service and a host of other technical solutions.
